

WINTER WHEAT SOWN AT NEAL

Yield is High in Sulphur Springs Valley, Farmers Find; More Planted.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 19.—A large acreage is being planted in winter wheat by the McNeal farmers of the Sulphur Springs valley. Many farmers who have not yet planted are preparing their ground for the crop.

This marks a departure, in a way, from the ordinary course of farming in the McNeal basin. Heretofore summer and fall crops have been grown almost exclusively.

Experiments successful. Last winter, however, there was some experimentation in winter wheat. The yield was as high as 45 bushels an acre. With the rainfall, only one, or at the most two, irrigations were required.

The chief drawback is that there are no threshers in the valley. Until some are secured the grain will be fed to cattle.

Zero weather delays. CHECKING BIG BLAZE. Fremont, Nov. 19.—Fire in the heart of the business part of Fremont early today destroyed four mercantile concerns, entailing losses aggregating $200,000, with insurance of half that amount. Zero weather made the work of the fire department difficult.

COGHLAN PLANS TO BUY A VALLEY FARM
R. H. Coghlan, chemist, one of the officials of the family which Uncle Sam gathered about the big Elephant Butte dam, is enthusiastic concerning the purchase of a valley farm in the Mesilla valley, which that great project is to irrigate.

Mr. Coghlan, who incidentally is a nephew of rear admiral Coghlan, of the United States navy, and a cousin of the celebrated actress, Rose Coghlan, will make a trip to the Mesilla valley this week for the purpose of selecting a site and purchasing a farm in that section.

Mr. Coghlan expects to buy a tract in partnership with J. J. Butte dam. Mr. Coghlan will continue to work for the government for the time being, but he has been spending some time in correspondence with R. E. Bassett, of the joint immigration bureau, and has personally visited all the valleys before making selection.

ARIZONA UNIVERSITY HAS A DEMONSTRATION TRAIN
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 19.—The agricultural demonstration train of the university of Arizona is now making its annual tour. It is now in northern Arizona, but will pass through the southern counties during late November and early December.

Many new features have been added to the train this year. One of the six cars is a show car, in which the university's agricultural and horticultural displays are occupied by pure bred livestock.

The following lectures are delivered at each stop by professors from the university: Prof. Stanley F. Morse, on livestock improvement; G. W. Barnes, on livestock and dairying; Dr. Lawrence, on profitable dairying; A. C. McQuinn, on dry farming; Dr. O. C. Hartley, on dairying; Dr. H. W. Barnes, on household economics; H. M. Bunker, of the Santa Fe, on pit silos.

NEW METHOD OF GRUBBING IS DISCOVERED AT HATCH
Hatch, N. M., Nov. 19.—L. Clapp, of Hatch, in the Kincaid valley, has made a remarkable record on a piece of valley land. This land, which is 20 acres, has been grubbed and planted with alfalfa, and it is now yielding a crop of alfalfa.

Mr. Clapp did not have a grubber at the time he grubbed. Instead, he let a contract for $12 an acre, cutting the alfalfa with a scythe. He then cut the alfalfa with a scythe, and the following year he cut it with a scythe, and the following year he cut it with a scythe.

He estimates that the poles not only paid for their own hauling, but paid for the expense of bordering the land for irrigation and reduced the cash outlay to $10 per acre. He then added the soil, after scattering alfalfa seed and cut, and his first cutting was one and a half tons of alfalfa per acre.

STEAMER SINKS;
CLASH SAVED
Goes Down in Collision Off the Florida Coast, Near Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 19.—The steamer Mildred, flying between Tampa and Fort Myers, was sunk in collision with the schooner Brazos, early today off Egmont Key, five miles southwest of the Tampa harbor entrance. The Mildred's passengers were rescued.

The schooner, which was carrying a cargo of lumber, was reported to have been badly damaged.

When the Mildred struck the bottom, her topmost deck was just above water. The passengers and crew remained on board for five hours until the ship was hoisted by a derrick.

The schooner was valued at $25,000. The Brazos was kept afloat by a cargo of lumber which she was carrying from Tampa to Cuba. The ship was sent to tow the Brazos to this port.

FIRING SQUAD KILLS THREE

Refuses Flatly to Execute a Couple of Undesirables in Juarez.

Two Juarez holdup men, who have been operating in the vicinity of the race track and who were captured by the Juarez authorities some days ago, were the principals in a near execution in the border town Wednesday afternoon.

Whether the authorities intended that the execution should go through as per schedule, is not known, but it is certain that the ceremony was carried forward to the point where the firing squad was to be made.

The men, about whom many complaints had been made by persons connected with the race track, were taken to the firing squad at 10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. They were accompanied by a firing squad of six soldiers and one sub-lieutenant.

Marches to Graveyard. The little procession, after parading the main street, marched down Lerdo avenue to the National station and then to the graveyard. Two graves had been dug and the men were placed beside them.

The firing squad fell into line and the officer gave the command "ready," which brought the guns to the aim. Then, according to the order of the firing squad, all of the squad dropped their guns and refused to continue with the ceremony, merely saying that they could not shoot "good hombres."

The officer didn't press the matter and the two were marched back to the jail, where they are now imprisoned.

The soldiers' reason. As their reason for refusing to fire, the soldiers are said to have declared that such a man should not be given to men "higher up" who have stolen money and property in great sums.

The matter was reported to Gen. Tomas Ornelas, governor of the state, and a hurried consultation was held. Finally, Gen. Ornelas, in a note to the soldiers who had halted the proceedings, said that as this was the first request made "upon the good government" by the brave soldiers of the northern division, it had been decided to pardon the offenders and restore them to their places in the ranks.

He added a warning that no stealing would be tolerated in the future.

Some two dozen filibusters, who were captured near Guadalupe last week, have been put to work repairing the streets around the plaza and the church. They were generally believed that these men would be shot, but Juarez residents now say that executions in the border town have gone out of fashion.

AMERICANS ARE MADE PRISONERS BY FILIBUSTERS OPPOSITE SIERRA BRANCA.

Thirty American cowboys have been seized by a band of filibusters at T. O. ranch, across the line from Sierra Branca, Texas, according to an El Paso section. Grave fears are felt for the safety of the Americans.

The filibusters took the Americans to the Sierra Branca region and Villa border agents are now making efforts to secure the release of the cowboys.

Some weeks ago the Nelson-Morris Co., which owns the T. O. ranch, secured permission from the Mexican government to send down a force of men to round up and brand the company cattle.

It was known that filibusters were operating in the neighborhood and permission for the sending of the 30 cowboys to protect the working force. The ranch has suffered considerably from the depredations of filibusters in the past.

The cowboys, according to the report, arrived at the headquarters of the ranch on Monday and immediately rode out towards one of the branding camps. While on their way, they were met by a band of about 15 mounted men. The latter rode up slowly, exhibiting the Mexican flag, and the cowboys thought that they were being welcomed.

When the ranch was close to the Americans an order was suddenly given and each of the Americans was covered with a gun.

The cowboys were taken to a place where they were last seen riding south, surrounded by their captors.

Villa officials, when advised of the raid, stated that the 75 Mexicans who had captured the Americans were federal filibusters.

The promised release of the Americans and the effort to secure the release of the Americans is understood that a strong detachment of Villa troops has been sent in pursuit.

A Narrative of Universal Interest Their Married Life

Helen Finds That Nora Is Thinking of Getting a Husband and Is Greatly Amazed.

"Do you mean to say you haven't asked her about it?" Helen asked. "I am sure she must have planned it with Lizzie."

"But what makes you think so, Mrs. Stevens?" Helen asked the question as she looked at her, because she knew by experience that Mrs. Stevens was very apt to exaggerate.

"Well, I haven't a real reason, but you know the old saying, 'If you don't know anything, you don't know anything.' I thought you told me once that Nora didn't know any one in New York."

"That's true; she has never bothered with any one."

"Well, then, don't you see that it's likely to be so? Perhaps Nora is afraid to tell you but I am sure they had it all planned."

Mrs. Stevens had come over early in the afternoon to see Helen about Nora. Helen could not believe that Nora would do anything so unbecomingly, but Mrs. Stevens seemed to have ample proof of the fact that Nora was planning to go to Ireland with Lizzie.

"Why, I should think the way would frighten her out of it."

"If it did for a time, but she has had her mind made up for some time now, and the sister of one of her friends went home just the other day. You see, she has saved up a little money since she has been with us, and she wants to go back home to see her people before marriage and settling down over here."

"Is she engaged?"

"Yes, and has been for two years now."

"Well, I can be sure of Nora on that score, anyway," said Helen with a male attachment that I know of."

"Oh, hasn't she though. Well, there have been two men in her kitchen since she has been with us, and she has been very kind to them, but I wouldn't be too sure of that if I were you."

Helen Elias Cause for Amusement. Helen was thinking rapidly. She could hardly imagine that Nora, without her husband, would have been so kind to her. She had a very good sense of humor and is very kind to her.
